

Botanic Resource Centre

Opened on 15 May 2008 by Her Excellency Mrs Marlena Jeffery, Patron of the Friends' of the ANBG. The Friends contributed $4,750 to the project.

'The brain-child of Murray Fagg, the Centre is a joint initiative between the Gardens and the Friends, with the Friends providing funds for the fit-out and recruiting 20 members to be trained as facilitators. Users have direct access to a library of pressed and dried plant specimens collected in Canberra and the surrounding southeast region, from Sydney to the Victorian border and inland as far as Wagga. The specimens are duplicates from the Australian National Herbarium.'
